UNIVERSITY OF WEST-HUNGARIA APÁCZAI CSERE JÁNOS FACULTY

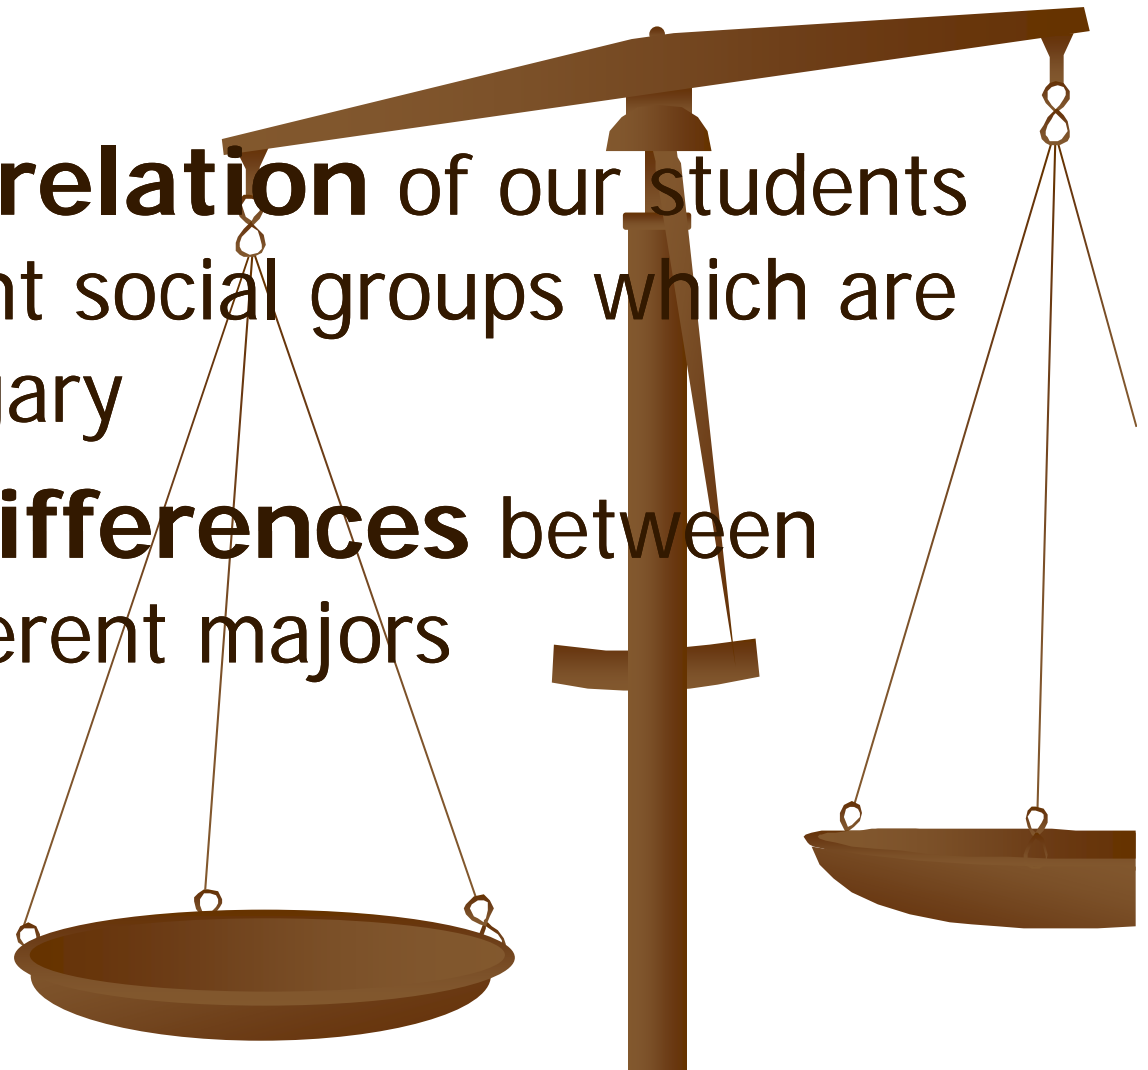

Sample

- teacher trainees
- teachers – cultural organisers
- social pedagogy workers
- andragogy students,
full time
correspondence

Our goal

- to examine the relation of our students towards different social groups which are present in Hungary
- to look at the differences between students of different majors

Our hypothesis I.

- based on previous Hungarian researches
- we will find the strongest rejection against
 - homosexuals
 - skinheads
- Romani

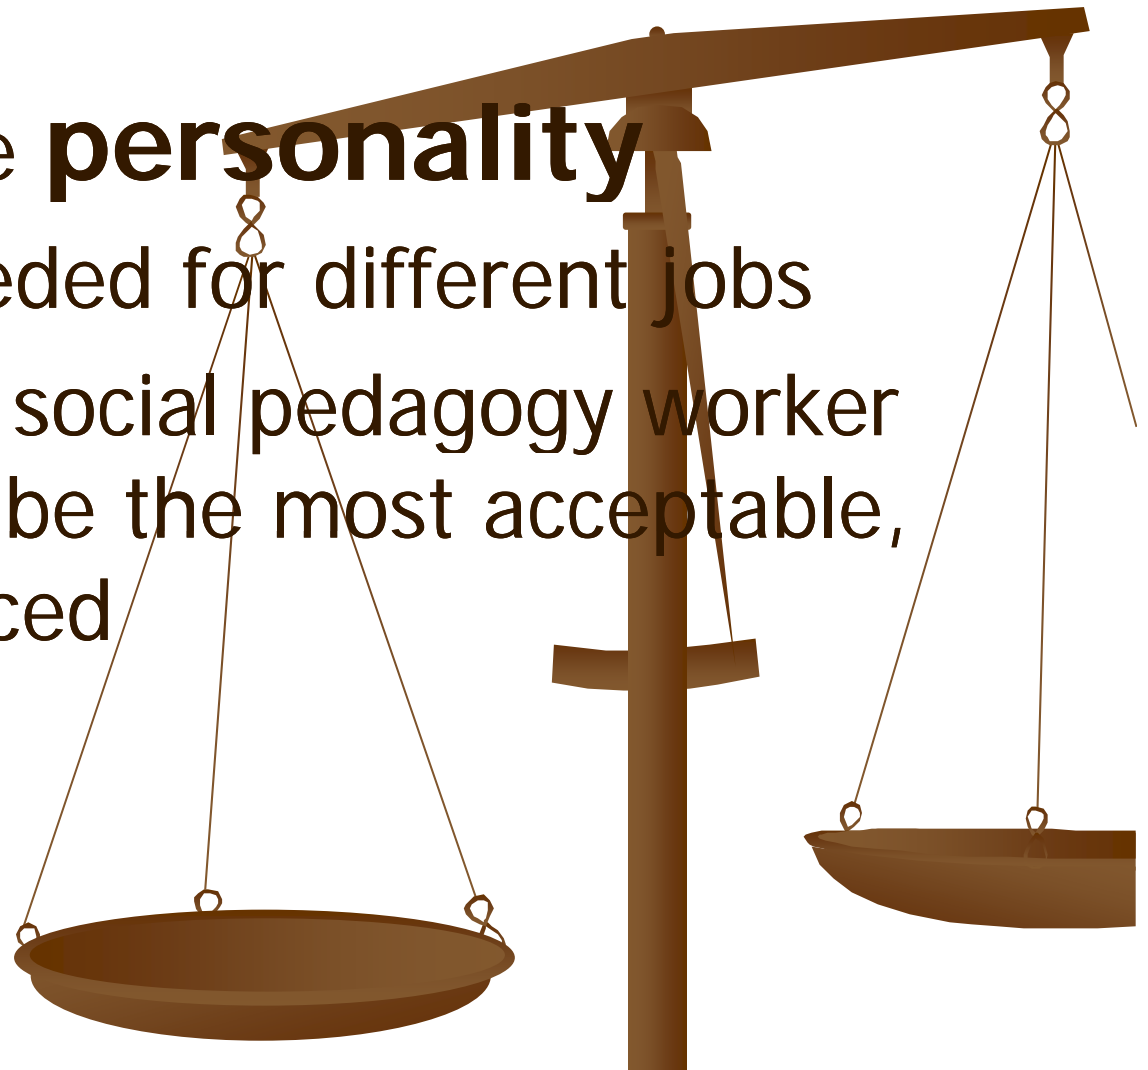

Our hypothesis II.

- comparing with history major students, who proved to be considerably anti-Semites in a previous research
- our students will be less anti-Semites

Our hypothesis III.

- according to the personality features needed for different jobs
- we thought our social pedagogy worker students would be the most acceptable, the less prejudiced

Our hypothesis IV.

- based on age differences
- we thought younger people would be more tolerant

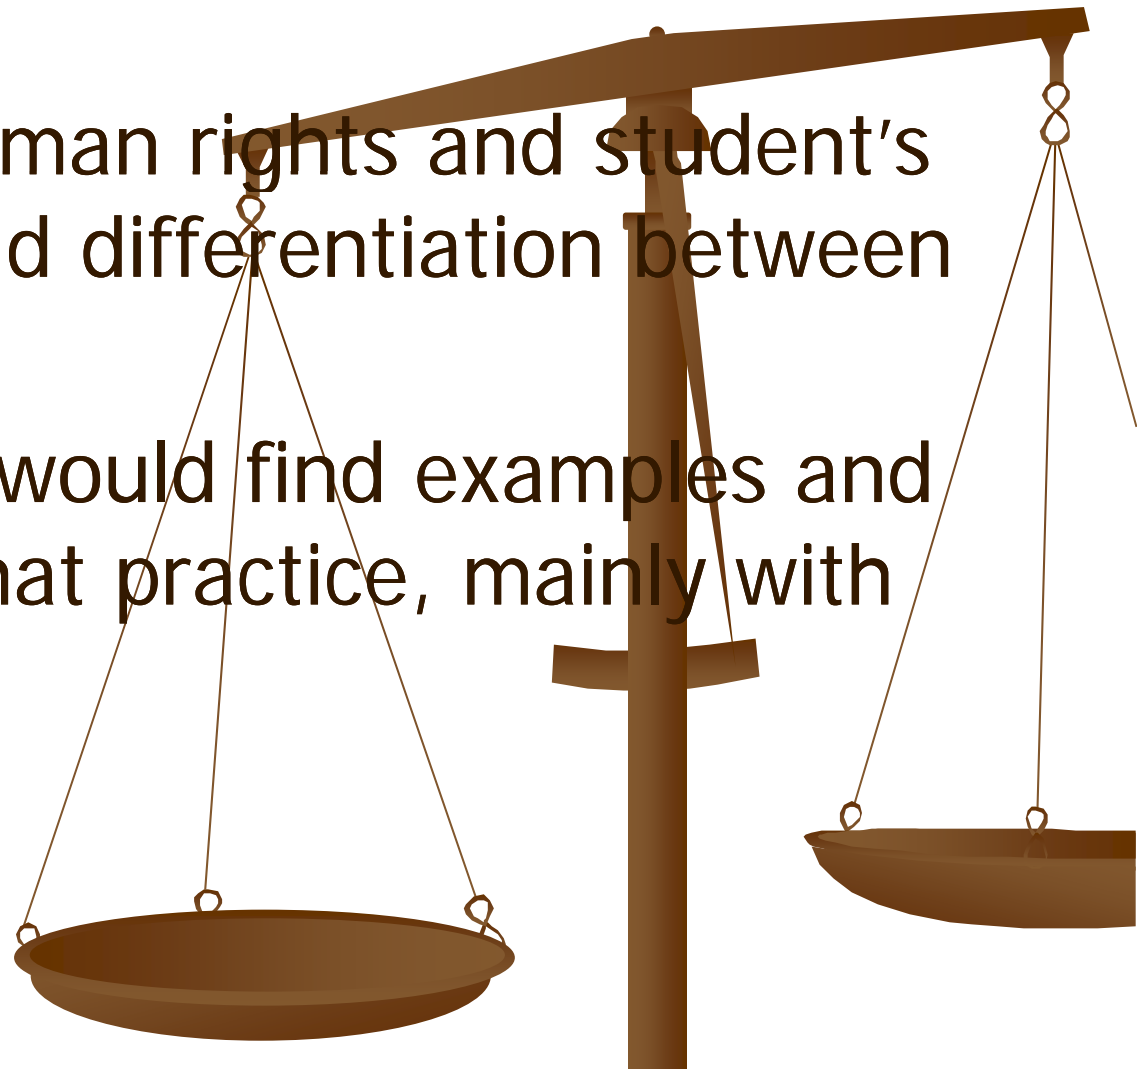

Our hypothesis V.

- looking at different ethnic groups
- we thought ethnic Hungarians would be the most accepted group

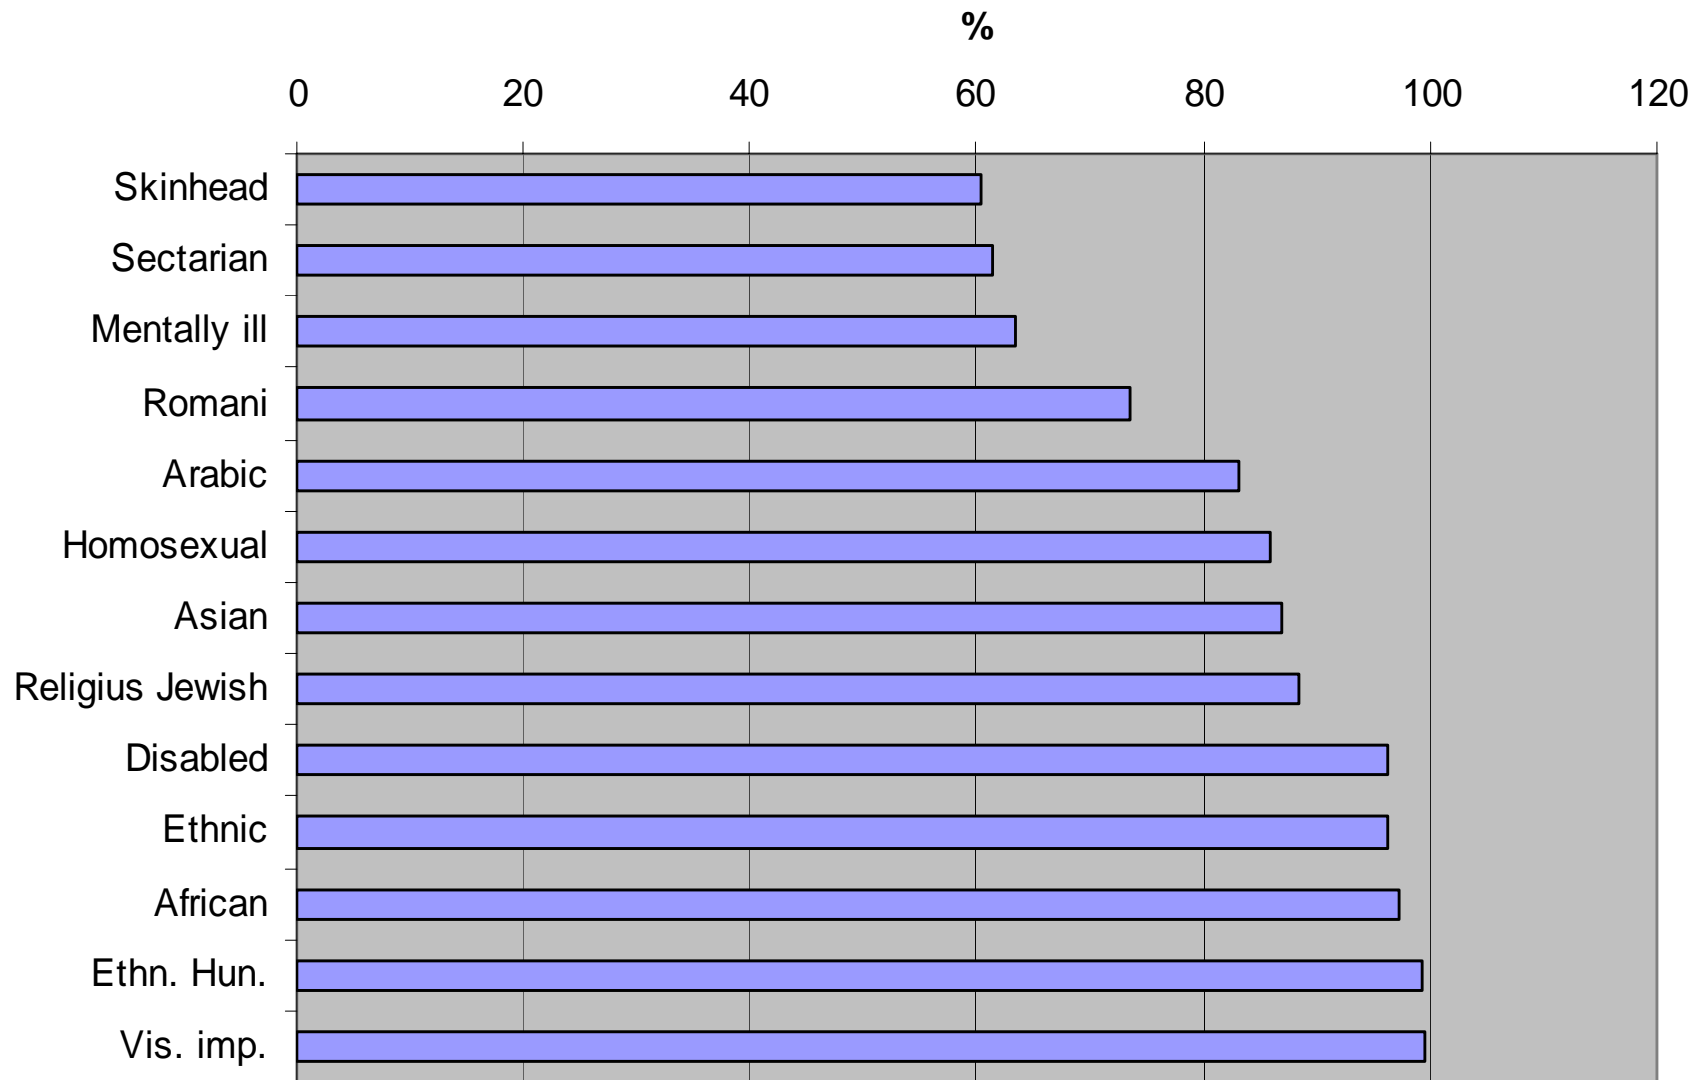

Our hypothesis VI.

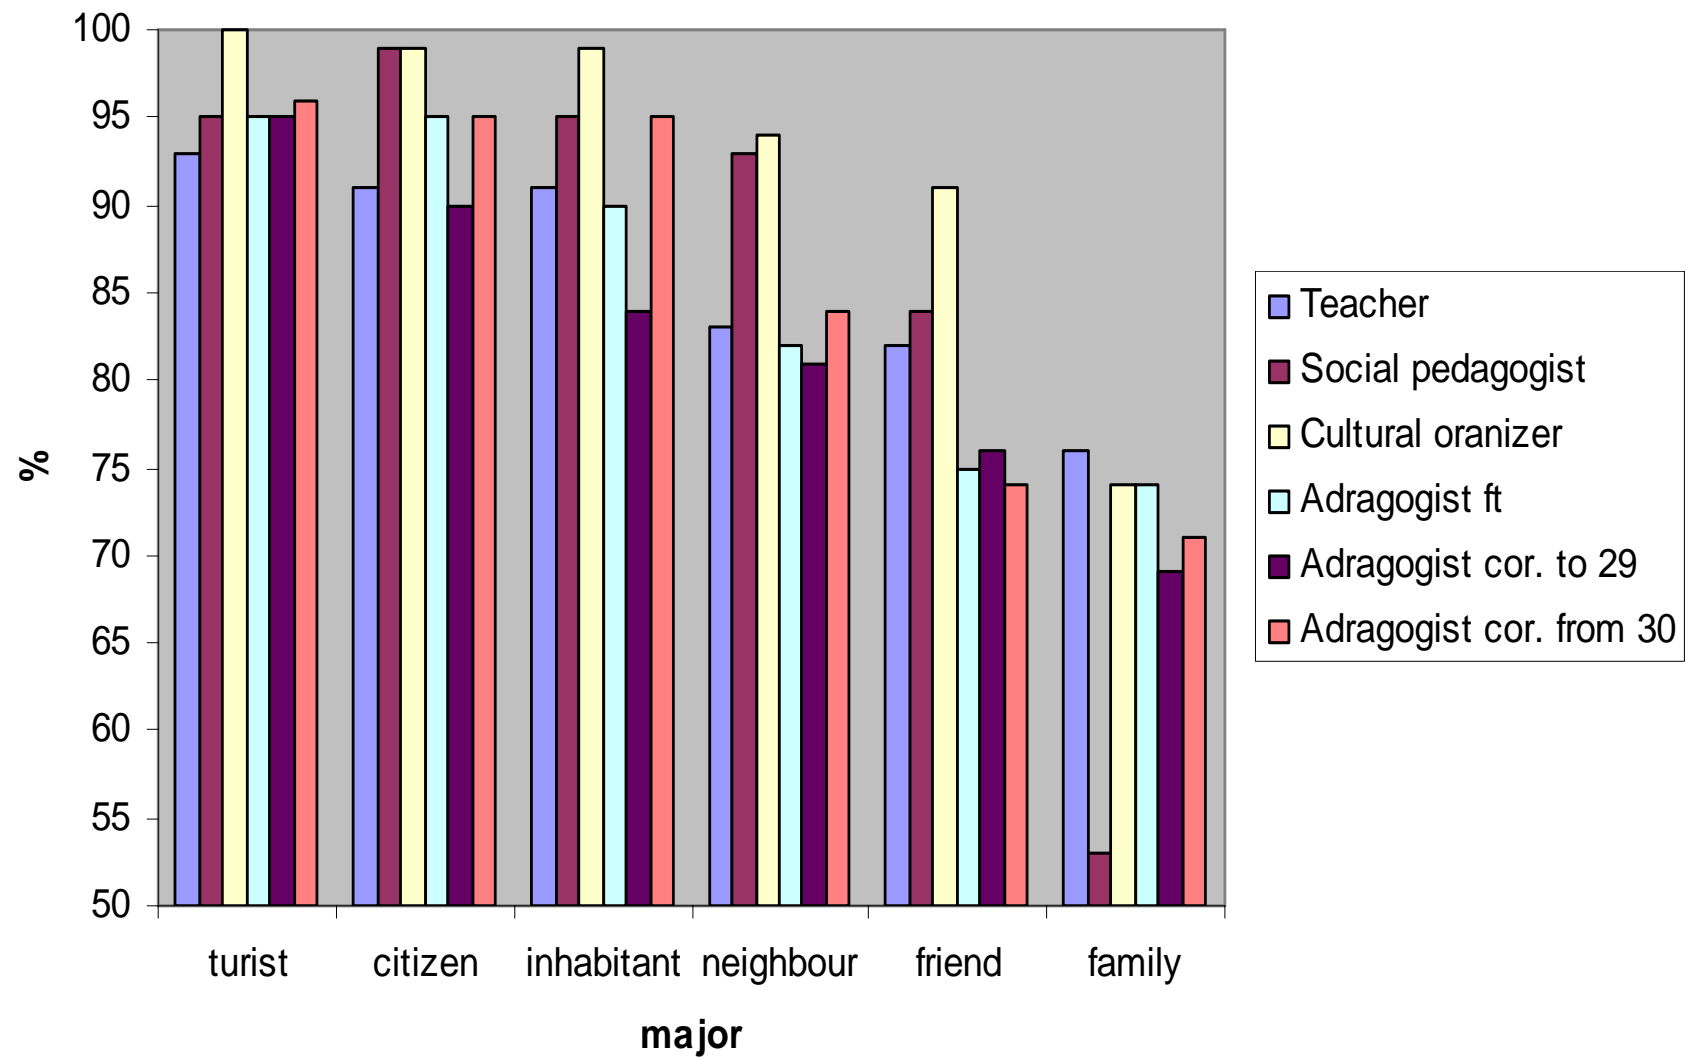

- however our human rights and student's rights laws forbid differentiation between people
- we thought we would find examples and experience of that practice, mainly with Romani
